To Whom It May Concern,

I confirm Mr. Trevor Duffy gave a lecture to the IBM Ring 317 membership on September 20th, 2016. Trevor Duffy is a professional, respectable, and very talented magician who thoroughly entertained and thrilled the audience that evening. He performed his effects one at a time, and meticulously explained every detail to the club members so they could understand the nuances of each effect. Trevor was openly taking questions and did not rush through any portion of the lecture.

The effects he performed included but were not limited to card magic, visual magic, and money magic, special effects to enhance your magic, sleights and utility moves. Every effect could be performed by both beginners to very skilled magicians. Nothing was exceptionally difficult, which made the agenda fit everyone's skills, keeping their attention level high and enthusiastic.

One of the special moments in the lecture was when Trevor stopped performing the magic, and began discussing the importance of self motivation and mental preparation for anything in life as well and when preparing to perform magic for people. He discussed his real world experiences when performing these and other effects, and emphasized the focus of the magic in regards to the audience connection. This point of the lecture was widely received by the club members because all magicians know the importance of aligning your magic with meaningful stories that connect to audiences, as opposed to just being a 'trickster' doing one trick after another.

As we all were hoping, Mr. Duffy brought a wide selection of his high quality magic products for sale, and offered incredible deals which allowed everyone to walk away with whatever fit their needs and budget. We were all fortunate to be offered exceptional deals only available at the lecture.

I am highly recommending Trevor Duffy as a magic lecturer, and motivational speaker, and if the opportunity presents itself again, I would welcome him back to our club without hesitation.

Sincerely,

Anthony DiFilippi

Current President, IBM Ring 317
